No. CV-23-02711-PHX-DWL

FTC'S FIRST SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE AND OBJECTIONS TO
DEFENDANT GRAND CANYON
EDUCATION, INC.'S FIRST SET OF INTERROGATORIES

19
20 In accordance with Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 26 and 33, plaintiff Federal 21 Trade Commission ("FTC") hereby supplements its response to Defendant Grand 22 Canyon Education, Inc.'s First Set of Interrogatories. The FTC's responses to the 23 Interrogatories represent the FTC's present knowledge based on its investigation,
24 information, and preparation to date. The FTC reserves the right to supplement, revise,
25 modify, or otherwise change or amend its responses to the Interrogatories.
26

SUPPLEMENTAL INTERROGATORY RESPONSES AND OBJECTIONS

INTERROGATORY NO. 3: Identify every Communication You have had [sic] Persons currently or formerly employed by or affiliated with GCE or GCU, including any current or former students of GCU, pertaining to any of the allegations in Your Amended Complaint. For each Communication, identify (a) the name of the Person with whom You communicated, (b) the nature of the Communication, (c) the mode of the Communication, (d) the date of the Communication, and (e) the substance of the Communication.

SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE:

The FTC has been contacted by employees or former employees who reported information regarding marketing practices of the Defendants. Some employees or former employees initiated communications by submitting information via online forms that the FTC makes available to contact the FTC regarding business practices. See reportfraud.ftc.gov/; www.donotcall.gov/; www.ftc.gov/news-events/news/press-releases/2014/05/file-consumer-complaint-ftc-your-mobile-device. The FTC has received and withheld communications received in this manner, the earliest of which is from March 2016 (CSN Ref. Nos. 71169609, 141196386, 167941228, 167942670, 17064162571169609, 141196386, 167941228, 167942670, 170641625). Some employees or former employees initiated communications by email. The FTC has received and withheld such email communications, the earliest of which was sent in July 2022.

1 Information regarding these communications is protected by the informant's
2 privilege and the FTC is not providing further information about these communications
3 pursuant to that privilege. Several employees and former employees have expressed fear 4 that reprisals might occur if their communication with law enforcement authorities was 5 disclosed. In addition, GCU has made public statements denouncing investigations by 6 the FTC and other federal agencies in terms suggest that those who identify with GCU or 7 similar institutions should view persons who communicate with law enforcement with 8 hostility because they are disloyal, dishonest, or biased. Consequently, disclosure that an 9 individual contacted authorities about Defendants' practices might subject the former or 10 current employees to intimidation or harassment, and former employees might 11 reasonably conclude that disclosure could cause retaliation or reprisals.
12

14 Disclosure of information from informants would undermine the FTC's law 15 enforcement function because persons with knowledge of law violations may fail to 16 share information with the FTC because they fear reprisal or retaliation. Even if the 17 information from such informants is not admissible evidence or is not used by the FTC
18 to support a law enforcement action, reports from informants may help the FTC to 19 identify and gather evidence that aids in identifying legal violations and the persons
20 responsible for such violations. Disclosure of information from such informants would 21 jeopardize the FTC's efforts in this and other law enforcement investigations.
22

23 In addition, FTC staff's conversations with current or former students or 24 employees are also protected by the work product doctrine. Because FTC staff are not
25 scriveners taking dictation, any summary of such conversations is necessarily protected
26

1 by the word product doctrine. First, such summaries may directly or indirectly reveal
2 staff's mental processes, opinion work product. Second, their reliability as accurate
3 reflections of the witness's statements depends upon many factors, including the
4 conditions of the interview, the contemporaneousness of the writing, and the editorial
5 discretion of the attorney. Third, discovery of such material creates a danger of
6 converting the attorney from advocate to witness. Finally, the information contained in 7 summaries or recollections generally is of limited utility as evidence. Thus, the FTC is 8 not providing summaries of the substance of any such conversations in discovery.

9
10 INTERROGATORY NO. 4: Identify every communication You have had with a
11 Person employed by or affiliated with any other state or federal government agency,
12 including the Department of Education, Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, State
13 Attorneys General, or the Department of Veteran Affairs, pertaining to any of the 14 allegations in Your Amended Complaint. For each Communication, identify (a) the 15 name of the Person with whom You communicated; (b) the nature of the 16 Communication; (c) the mode of the Communication; (d) the date of the 17 Communication; and (e) the substance of the Communication.

18
19 SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE AND OBJECTION:

20 The FTC has exchanged email communications with a representative of the 21 Department of Veterans Affairs pertaining to allegations in the Amended Complaint.
22 Information on the dates and parties to the email exchange are ascertainable from emails
23 produced in response to GCE's Requests for Production of Documents.
24

1 The FTC has exchanged emails communications and engaged in oral
2 communications with representatives of the Department of Justice pertaining to
3 allegations in the Amended Complaint. These communication are protected by the work
4 product doctrine and law enforcement privilege. Nonprivileged information regarding
5 the communications will be provided in a privilege log pursuant to the parties' ESI
6 Protocol.
7

8 The FTC's investigation prior to the complaint and amended complaint involved
9 deliberations regarding multiple FTC actions, as described in the statement of objection
10 below following Interrogatory 11. Information responsive to this Interrogatory's 11 unqualified demand for every inter-agency communication pertaining to allegations in 12 the Amended Complaint encompasses information protected by the deliberative process
13 privilege that protects advice and recommendations. The FTC is not disclosing
14 information regarding Staff recommendations, communications about the 15 recommendations, and the deliberative process that led to these FTC actions pursuant to 16 the deliberative process privilege.
17

18 In addition, FTC staff's conversations with other state or federal government
19 agencies are protected by the work product doctrine. Because FTC staff are not
20 scriveners taking dictation, any summary of such conversations is necessarily protected
21 by the work product doctrine. First, such summaries may directly or indirectly reveal
22 staff's mental processes, opinion work product. Second, their reliability as accurate
23 reflections of the witness's statements depends upon many factors, including the
24 conditions of the interview, the contemporaneousness of the writing, and the editorial
25 discretion of the attorney. Third, discovery of such material creates a danger of 26

1 converting the attorney from advocate to witness. Finally, the information contained in
2 such summaries or recollections generally is of limited utility as evidence. Thus, the 3 FTC is not providing summaries and recollections of the substance of communications
4 based on the work-product doctrine.

5
